

BETTER together

When you upgrade your Heating & Cooling system at the same time, we save on labor costs. We pass those savings back to you!

When it comes time to replace/upgrade your old equipment, it truly is better if you do both at the same point. New equipment require compatible matched systems to really take advantage of new technologies that will keep you more comfortable than ever before.

Our Amana S-Series Heat Pump System when combined with a Modulating Furnace is one of the most quiet, and comfortable systems around. When you do both at the same time, save $700 instantly!

When you go with a cooling only S-Series system with a matching Amana Furnace you can save $600!

All other Furnace and Air Conditioner / Heat Pump options is a instant savings of $500!

Communicating Furnace

Communicating S-Series Unit

Communicating Thermostat

An Amana S-Series System requires an Amana Thermostat, and is included* with the purchase of the S-Series system. Traditional style Air Conditioners do not require a specialty thermostat to operate.
